That Was Then

In 1787 Louisburg College began its long and distinct journey into the history books of North Carolina and the United States. During the early years, the College endured all the problems any institution of its kind could possibly encounter. But with great leadership and the faith of a town and county, the small liberal arts college would make it into the Twentieth Century with the spirit and zeal it would take to educate and serve those who would enter its doors. Through the Civil War and The Depression, Louisburg College would become the nations oldest and proudest chartered, two-year, church-related, coeducational junior college. Today, Louisburg College continues to be a leader in aiding students to become more competent in the fundamentals of learning. As Louisburg College enters its third century, the traditions that made the College great will continue in its future.

It was a time of simpler things, when it was easy to share peaceful moments on the front lawn.

It was a time for May Day Celebrations and time for policy making. A time when one could dream for the future, and a time to remember those things we cherished.

This Is 1987

The times have changed for the most part.. but students still enjoy the simple things in life. The excitement in learning new things, and meeting new people

It's still a time to experience the magic of friendship that will last through the ages. A time to get involved in life

It's a time to relax and enjoy the good things college life can bring. A time to remember

Founders Day 1987

"Whereas establishing an Academy in the said county for the education of youth will be attended with great advantages to the State in general, and the County of Franklin in particular . . ." These are the words of the original charter approved by the State of North Carolina General Assembly on January 6, 1787. Two hundred years later the college administration, faculty, alumni, special guests, and friends gathered in Holton Gymnasium to celebrate the continuing legacy and tradition of a very special Junior College.

Among the notables participating in the celebration were keynote speaker Dr. William C. Friday, President Emeritus of The University of North Carolina; The Honorable Robert B. Jordan, III, Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina who represented the State of North Carolina; and Bishop Carlton P. Minnick, Jr., who gave greetings from The North Carolina United Methodist Church. Also among the well-wishers were Louisburg's Mayor, Lucy T. Allen; Ben E. Jordan Jr., Chairman of the Board of Trustees; Harold A. Morris, President of the Alumni Association; Dr. George Ann Willard, Chair of the Bicentennial Committee; and Lisa Buffaloe, President of the Student Government Association for the 1986-87 academic year.

Dr. Friday said, "The great adventure of learning and the freeing of a young mind from the boundaries of fear, prejudice, despair, and bigotry are through the wonders of knowledge and its joys and compassion. This is why Louisburg College and The University of North Carolina are so important, and this is why that what is done today on these campuses by these teachers is so critical to the future."

Happy Birthday Louisburg College with many more to come. Just think — Two hundred years of dedicated service.

Dr. J. Allen Norris, Jr., President of Louisburg College, welcomes the many who help celebrate the college's two hundreth birthday.

Dr. William C. Friday was the keynote speoker for Founder's Day stating, "We've come a long way together."

Bishop Carlton P. Minnick, Jr. brought greetings from The United Methodist Church and thanked Louisburg College for its "Church relatedness."

Louisburg's Mayor, Lucy T. Allen, brought greetings from the Town of Louisburg and Franklin County.

◀ Lisa Buttaloe spoke on behalf of the students she represents as President of Louisburg College's Student Government Association

◀ The Louisburg College Ensemble and Glee Club under the direction of Dan Steinert performed "An American Trilogy" by Mickey Newbury

Following the Ensemble to the stage in the processional is Dan Steinert, the Director. ▼

▶ The stage was well occupied with dignataries from church and state helping to celebrate the College's 200 years.

◀ Harold A. Morris, President of the Alumni Association, spoke on behalf of the 12,000 living alumni of the College.

◀ The Honorable Robert B Jordan, III, Lt. Gov. of North Carolina, brought greetings from the State

Bicentennial

The Celebration

William and Patricia Hinton enjoy the sounds and moods of the Bo Thrope Band.

Many Louisburg College students went to the student concert, featuring the Band of Oz and Sidewinder.

During the Bicentennial celebration, the cake cutting was a special time for all of us to gather together.

There was still plenty of cake [illegible] after the big birthday party during the [illegible] week

Making those special meals and [illegible] everyone happy were Saga's super [illegible] Hamilton and Scott Myers

There were many students, faculty and alumni who participated in the Torch Run. Buddy Hyde and DeAnn Yager were two happy runners

Helping to celebrate our 200th birthday is Bob DeBardelaben with Uyen Tran and Dawn Grimes

Celebrating 200 Years

Dr. Norris presents Gov. Martin a tee shirt and Bicentennial plaque from the College. Gov. Martin lights the torch for the 40 mile run.

Starting the first mile of a 40 mile trek is Steve Burkehead. Keep that flame alive.

The week of March 23-28 was the time set aside by Louisburg College to celebrate its 200 years as an educational institution. It was also the time for the College and its special friends and Alumni to have some fun.

The week started off with a Torch Run from the Capitol in Raleigh to the steps of Main Building. There was a special Chapel Service and student concert with The Band of Oz and Sidewinder. It was a week filled with the arts where students and faculty shared their talents both in poetry reading and the Bicentennial Play. The week concluded with a sensational Bicentennial Alumni Weekend and Ball with Bo Thorpe and his big band. It was a week to remember the heritage of a great institution, Louisburg College.

State Senator James Speed presents the torch to Dr. Norris on the steps of Main Building.

The Bicentennial Cake was made from the image of Main Building.

Brad Shuler was one of the 40 runners participating in the run from Raleigh. With him is Bain Williams and Forrest Goff

The speaker for Chapel was Dr. Belton Joyner

The Bicentennial was big news for these three students The week was especially exciting with The Band of Oz

Students found the sounds of Sidewinder loud and exciting.

Standing around the stage listening to the bands is great fun for these students.

The Band of Oz entertained the [illegible]ith Beach and Top 40 music, while Forrest Gott a[illegible]Shearin brought the Torch home to Louisburg.

The Week

It would be a week to remember for as long as one would live. Many students took part in the festivities during the Bicentennial Week. There was the Torch Run from Raleigh to Louisburg. There was the exciting and loud sounds of the Band of Oz and Sidewinder at the Student Concert. And of course, there was the big Bicentennial Ball that everyone enjoyed. Yes, it would be memories to cherish for a lifetime.

Having a grand time and showing off their canoeing skills around the lake at Camp Kanata are Jennifer Outlaw and Lisa Buffaloe.

There was close to 40 students and Student Affairs staff members who spent two days at Camp Kanata sharpening their leadership skills for the 1986-87 schaal year.

Camp Kanata

Leadership Conference

Before most students were making plans to return to campus from summer vacation, a number of students were already learning some valuable lessons to help them to be responsible Resident Life Staff personnel in their dorms. It was a time to aquaint themselves with not only the rules and regulations of the college, but also how to structure programming for dorm life. It was also a time to cherish the good times spent with friends and people who cared Making sure everyone understands the schedule of events for the conference is Assistant Dean Kelli McLeod. Listening are David Reese and Jim Garulski.

Enjoying their free time sitting on the dock are Will Griffin and Rhonda Slaughter

Posing for the camera are Laura Kidd, Rhonda Slaughter, Bu[illegible], Karen Ray, Kenny Kidd, John Walker and Will Griffin

Students Ski Trip '87

It was along way down the slopes at Appalachian Ski Resort for many lousburg college students.

It is always nice to get a lift, especialy if its along way to the top. Allen McCray is enjoying the ride to the top.

About a dozen students joined Coach Sheilah Cotten at Appalachian Ski Mountian in Boone, North Carolina, to do some serious skiing January 4-7,1987. The program was offered by Ski French Swiss. The package included four sessions of skiing, with instruction available from the staff of the Appalachian Ski Mountian. The total cost per student was a very reasonable $140.00, which included room accommodations. Louisburg College students recieved one hour credit for participating in the skiing program. Students from the University of South Carolina, Memphis State, UNC Wilmington, Oxford and The Citadel participated in the same program.

Watching and listening attentively to the instruction of the skiing staff at Appalachian Ski Mountain is Leigh Coble.

Taking her turn down the mountian slopes is Deana Schneider. Steady as you go, Deana!

Clowning around in their usual w[illegible] Ar ulski, and Scottie Schlotzhauer oying his spare time in the laundry room. Kenny Kidds' clothes are not the only thing getting dried

Enjoying their quiet time after dinner, everyone meets together to discuss their day

Campus Scenes

It is very unusual for classes to be canceled because of inclement weather. But because of the very icy conditions, many faculty members and commuting students found themselves unable to make it to class. So, what do students do when classes are canceled? Some do the obvious, they go out and build a snowman, most of them throw snowballs, and some go sledding. But some students found the snowdays to be a good time to make up classwork and others found more time to sleep. But after several days of vacation from classes, most students were ready to make those 8:00 classes.

Taking time out from their snowball fight is Andy Shaw and Jenny Sprigg.

Spotting another victim for her snowball is Peggy Oneil.

Many students found the parking lot to be a great place to have their snowball battles and their sledding events.

Posing for a picture in the snow is Bridgette Woods, Melinda Wade, Melissa Wade, and M Hawes.

Hiding behind the trees to keep away from the flying snowballs are Hemphill Thorn and Dedra Cardin

Residence Life

The Good Life '87

Dorm living is not aways just working on homework assignments or studying for a big exam. Living in the dorm gives everyone the opportunity to make new friends and get involved with activities sponsored by the Residence Life Council. Students may also fix up their rooms like they want to. Some students build lofts to make room for their creative living. On Tuesday and Thursday evenings the students in all dorms have visitation privileges. So studying is not the only things going on in the dorms at Louisburg College.

Trying to forget about homework for awhile by turning on her favorite "Soaps" is Angela McLawhorn.

Posing for the camera before going out on the town are Kim Gentry and Beth Bates.

Getting a refreshing glass of water from the fountain is Jay Newton.

Slave Auction

As a traditional part of Louisburg College students life, the annual slave auction was again a great success. The purpose for this activity is to raise funds for the Christmas formal. This years master of ceremonies was Hillman's resident director J.P. Perry. Tony Droppleman, and Lloyd Jacobs took the show and the highest bid for this years slave auction.

Showing himself off at the slave auction is Jay Martin.

Influencing the buyers to bid higher is Amy Covert showing off her "pearly whites."

Intertaining the audien[illegible]aby faces are Tony Droppleman, a[illegible]

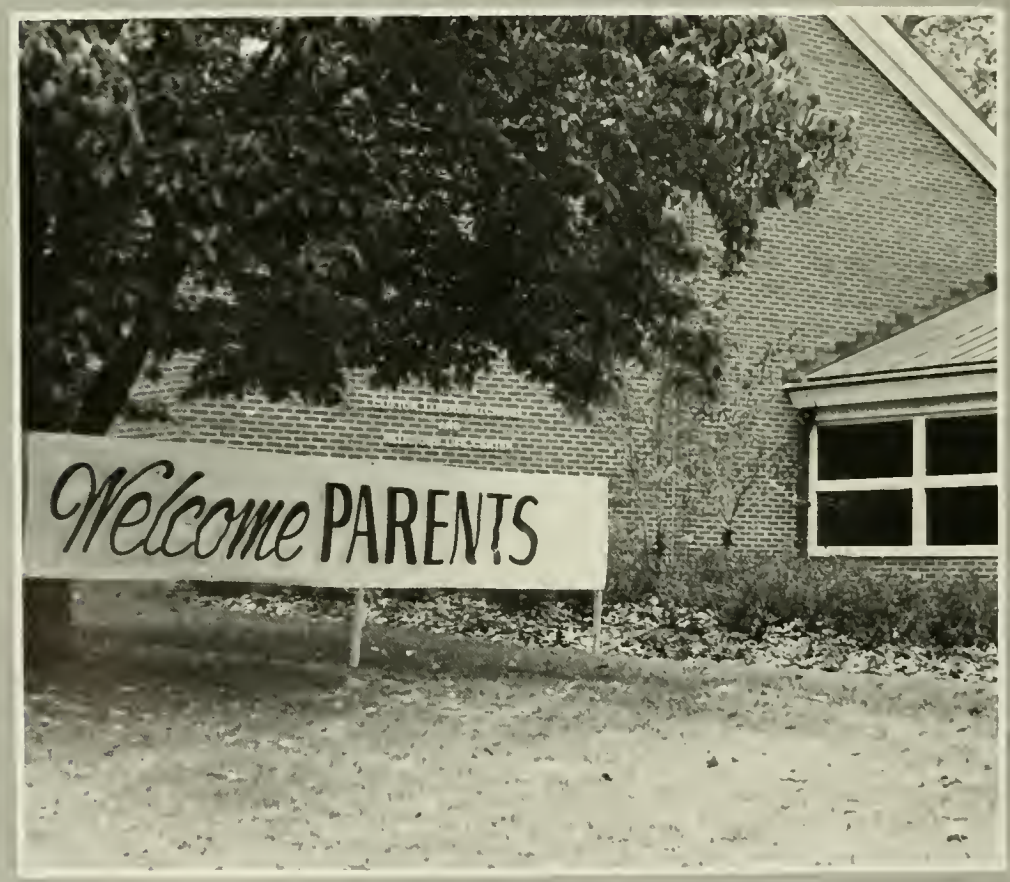
Making the Slave Auction more appealing for the bidders are Sandy Macfa[illegible]h Frink, and Georgette Ray

Parent's Day

One of the most special and important events during the acedemic year at Louisburg College is Parent's Day. Parent's Day gives the student's mothers and fathers the opportunity to meet with teachers and discuss their sons and daughters progress in various courses. Always a traditional treat is the meal served in the college cafeteria and the pleasure to hear Dr. Brown, the Academic Dean, speak encouraging words for both parents and students.

Getting a jump on speaking with their son's instructor are these parents and Beth Burkehead, instructor of psychology.



Parents had the opportunity to register in the college's Clifton L. Benson Chapel where they watched the Bicentennial's slide show of the school's 200 years of tradition.

Escorting her parent's to the parent's day luncheon is Robin Ingle.

Speaking with parent [illegible] child's progress is Wade Vickrey, [illegible]

Bicentennial Year

While other students were at the beach or at home over Spring Break, March 6-14, 18 Louisburg College students were in London, England. Under the leadership of Dan Steinert, Instructor of Music and Director of the Glee Club and Ensemble, the trip to England was made possible. The trip was in keeping with the Bicentennial celebration of Louisburg College and its great tradition of the "educational experience." "Louisburg College has long been associated with Methodism, and in 1909 was donated to the Methodist Episcopal Church. When Miss Sarah Foster joined the faculty in 1945, she immediately formed a small group of singers from the larger Glee Club, and as the "Choristers" they sang during worship services at area churches and for civic functions in the surrounding communities. After being called the "Chapel Choir" for an extended period thereafter, the name "Ensemble" has been associated with them since 1975." On the trip with the Ensemble group were Dr. and Mrs. Norris, William Hinton and several non-singing students.

Ensemble In London Town

The group found a lot of time to take pictures of the sights of "Merry old London Town."Here Tim Johnson and Renee Harris get their share of memories.

The British Museum of Natural History was one of the many sights the ensemble students got to see

Denise Gilliam and Renee Harris were still taking pictures of London and the people who make up that great city. "Don't you wish you could have been there?"

The landmark of London, "Big Ben."

Taking in the sights and lost in the beauty of London is Tim Johnson.

Halloween Dance

The annual Halloween Dance and costume festivities were held again in the Multi-Purpose Room of the Jordon Student Center. It was a time for ghoulish pranks and pure fun! The contest brought out many would be monsters and villans. All in all, it was a spooktacular great time and one to remember!

Taking a breather from doing the "Monster Mash" is Sheri Lanier.

Sharing a close moment at the dance, i
Tony Drappleman, and Kim Cavan.

Winning first prize is lion trainer Daphne Karrs, and cat lady Lisa Potts.

College Days 1986-87

The college experience is one of the most important things any person can be involved with during his or her life. At Louisburg College, one can the time rewarding in many ways. One only needs to look around and keep abreast of the many happenings on campus. This year was a very special time for the college and all who would participate in the great events that would take place. It's not every college, two or four years, that can say it is two hundred years old. Yes, we were involved in a very special happening not just in the State of North Carolina, but the united States. The events could be going to the big game at Holton Gym or a special cinema arts presentation. It could be one of the worthy causes that the Christian Life Council is involved with in the Louisburg community. Maybe we aren't the biggest, but we are something that many student, in other coleges, will not have the chance to be involved in. Be proud of it!

Sitting with friends at the basketball game is one of the many treats that Louisburg College students enjoy.

There is always time to have friendly chats and share the day's events with one another.

Having a great time at the student concert are Kathy Myers, Drew Pinckney and Jeniffer Doban.

Part of the college experience is making friends for a lifetime. Laura Maynor, Cynthia Ausley, Sherry Clark and Paula Neal, share this kind of friendship.

Helping with the planning of another RLC program are Clell Wetherington and Jessica Copeland.

Participating in intramurals is only one of the many things students can get involved with during their stay at Louisburg College. Lavon Griffin swings for the fence in this softball game.

Enjoying each other's company at the dance are Will Griffin and Jessica Copeland.

Helping to chaperon at the Valentine's Dance are Scott Myers and Elizabeth Stark.

Taking a break from the dance are Ellen Dinota and Michael Lashley.

Valentine's Dance

Enjoying some of the refreshments served at the dance are Walker Ingle and his date Jeanie Wood

oying the dance are Joe Cohn and te Melody Yow

Enjoying time alone together at the dance are Mickey Hinnant and Verdell Richardson

Talent Show '87

The Annual Talent Show sponsored by the Student Government Association was a night to remember. This year's competition was held in the Multi-Purpose Room in the Jordan Student Center. This years talent was filled with a wide variety of acts. There were stand up comedy routines by William Allen and Kevin Harris that kept the crowd laughing. The top award went to the group called The "Bluegrass Pickers" made up of Rick Rafferty, Rafe Martin and Craig Eller. It was truly "A Star Studded Night" for all who participated in the show and those who attended.

Making their own music to entertain the audience are Luther Tutt, Jimmy Sharp, Chubby Saunders, and Mickey Hinnant.

A Star Studded Night

Helping Tee Hubert along with his song is Kevin Bighinatti acting like a nerd.

Winning first prize in the Talent Show as "The Blue Grass Pickers" were Rick Ratterty, Rafe Martain, and Craig Eller

Entertaining the audience with his great comedy act is William Allen.

Winning third place in the Talent Show, posing as Janet Jackson, is Clementine Watkins

Kevin Harris blew the crowd away with his stand up comedy act

Jay Martin and Brad Shuler go at it like the Pros do in the NWA.

It was . . .

Jell-o ?

Yes, Jell-o wrestling has come to Louisburg College. It was sponsored by the Kenan Residence Life Council for the enjoyment of many students. The great event happened in Holton Gym and there was a big group to help make the experience that much more fun. No, it was not the National wrestling Alliance, but it was just as exciting as big time wrestling. No one left the big card event disappointed. The students who displayed their talents in this unusual sporting get together, gave the hometown students something to cheer about. All found the experience to be quite entertaining.

Lou - U

These students are eagerly awaiting the big card of wrestlers that will give their all to entertain the masses.

Getting down to business and the jell-o are DeAnn Yeager and Kim Taylor.

Jell-o Wrestling

Kevin Zoltek gets the ride of his life in the first jell-o wrestling contest

Lourie Sullivan gets the big pull down where all the fun begins

Making the right connection with his bat is Tony Joyner. Tony also played on the Canes Basketball team.

Scoring another big run for the Davis Dorm softball team is Jesse Ward. The Softball Champions were the men from Davis.

Intramurals 1987

Making it safely to first base is Keith Watt, from Patten Dorm.

There is always time for good spartsmanship on the field of play after each game.

Hitting the ball with authority is Chubby Saunders

In the heat of a close game, there will always be some disagreement among players and the officials

One of the best things that intramurals provide is a healthy outlet of the days frustrations as well as a time for competition.

Throwing another potential strike is Tony Joyner for the championship team of Davis Dorm.

Champs and . . .

The softball games were well attended by the college students, especially the female variety.

Men were not the only ones who participated in the Louisburg College Intramurals programming, but women also had the same opportunities

Champions In '87

he members of the Baseball team were the Fall '86 Football Champions. The aseball team was undefeated for the second straight year.

Giving The Gift Of Life

Christian Life
Council

Giving a helping hand at the Bloodmobile is Lisa Buffaloe.

Giving blood can be fun as John Culbertson demonstrates by clowning around.

Putting back some sugar into their blood system, by eating cookies and drinking juice, are these brave students.

Showing their enthusiasm after giving blood are Lisa Cordell, Ellen Floyd, Todd Shearin and Lisa Averette

Preparing to give "The Gift Of Life" is Robin Ingle

Whenever there is a good cause to be involved with, you can always depend on the Christian Life Council to be giving its best shot. The Bloodmobile is only one of the many causes the CLC gets involved with during the academic year. The CLC has already had two blood drive this year, and its last campaign, the CLC collected 59 pints of blood. The group is under the able leadership of the college chaplain, Sidney Stafford.

Outside And Around The Campus

Entertainig the students during the special dinner on the grounds, is the Day Room Monitors.

Showing her happiness and fabulous smile is Amy Covert.

Having the dinner meal outside is a good chonge of pace for the students, even if you have to share your meal with "natures own."

Enjoying the sun and the warmth of the day with her friends isRobynne French.

When the weather turns warmer and the days get longer, you can be sure to see students like these enjoying their time together

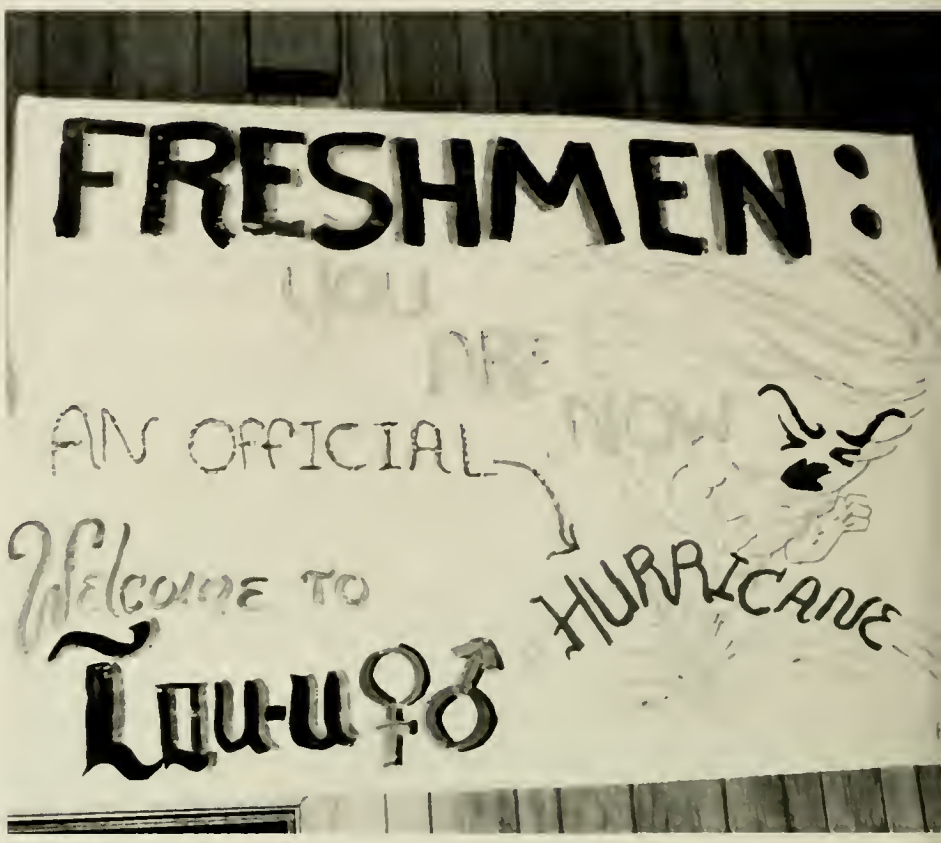
Squinting her eyes, as she borrows a line from Joan Rivers, is Peggy O'Neel

Entertaining his friends during the dinner is Dave Lane

Around Campus

There is always a welcome sign for every freshman on the Louisburg College Campus

Many students at Louisburg College are always finding themselves involved in a number of activities sponsored by many campus organizations. There are always worthwhile events happening on campus, such as the Christian Life Council Blood Mobile or the Student Government Associations Heart Fund Drive and the Freshman Class Food Campaign at Christmas. Some students find singing in the College Ensenble is very exciting and rewarding. But some students find making friends and relaxing in their room satisfying.



Helping Buddy Hyde out while he is giving blood to the Red Cross is Ellen Floyd, Lisa Averette, and Lisa Cordell.

Keeping "Silent Sam" company on a cold winter's night are Kelley Boyles, and Angela McLawhon.

Taking a break while working the desk for Open House is Julie Tucker, and Renee Cochrane.

Entertaining the parents during lunch on Parent's Day is the College Ensemble

Relaxing in his chair in Franklin Dorm is Heath Hamrick

The library is a good place to study and relax. Many freshmen find out early how important the library is in meeting their assignments.

Dr. J. Allen Norris Jr.

"All of us at Louisburg College in this 1986-87 school year — students,faculty,and staff — have an opportunity to celebrate something never before celebrated here — the 200th birthday of the College! Yes the founding date was 1787, and it is right that we should take special note of it as we proceed through the current academic year." Those were the inspiring words of our President, Dr. Norris, as he welcomed the new students at the beginning of school. Dr. Norris encourage the students and reminded us why we were here. "As classes begin, let us remember that they are our primary reason for being here. A 'good start' in each one is very important and can set the stage for successful completion. Let's make this year a positive one to remember."

Office Of The President

Dr. Norris speaks with Mr. Harold Morris, President of the Alumni Association, during the Alumni Day festivities.

The Executive Secretary to President Norris is Mrs. Betty Smith.

Mr Steven Burkhead is the Assistant to the President for Institutional Advancement

Mr Burkhead plays a very important role at Louisburg College serving as the Administrative Assistant to President Norris in the area of Institutional Advancement. Mr. Burkhead provides leadership in the fund raising for the final phase of the Third Century Campagin to build a new auditoruim/theatre complex. Dr. Norris appointed Mr. Burkhead to the position last spring. President Norris said of Steve, "He is eminently qualified to assume this important administrative position." Steve is also the liaison person to the many church and civic groups using the campus for meetings. Mr. Burkhead was also very involved with the Bicentennial events on and off campus. Steve is truly an excellent addition to the office of the President.

"ACADEMIC SUC[illegible] This was the message from the o[illegible] the Academic Dean. Dean Brow[illegible] that academic success "is our [illegible]oal as we welcome you to Lou[illegible]Col lege. Every staff and faculty [illegible]er of Louisburg wants you to succeed and will assist you in every reasonable way." Students who did not excell in high school can find at Louisburg College the opportunities to grow and become leaders in academic and other curricular activities. "An education is not something that happens to you or is done to you, nor is it something you get like bread in a bag — you educate yourself." Louisburg College is truly an institution of higher education, but also an institution that truly cares about every student that enters its doors. Dr. Brown said that "learning can be fun."

And Executive Vice-President

The Secretary to the Executive Vice-President and Academic Dean is Mrs. Mary Hughes

Dr. Steven E. Brooks

The office of Academic Services had a very unusal start for the 1986-87 academic year. Dr. Brooks had to search for four new staff members to fill some extremely vital positions to meet the colleges enrollment needs. During the spring and summer Dr. Brooks did indeed find qualified personnel to meet the challenge of recruiting students to start their college experience at Louisburg. Mrs Elizabeth McDuffie, a Goldsboro native, began her new duties as the Director of Admissions and Financial Aid. Dr. Brooks said of McDuffie; "She is highly regarded within the admissions and financial aid community in North Carolina." Filling the vacancies for the positions of Admissiom Counselors are Ricky Lowe, Karen Traywick and Jamie Edwards.

A Community Tradition

Christmas

There were marching bands and many beautiful floats representing the community in the annual Louisburg Christmas Parade. It is a tradition for not only the residents of the town and community, but also for the college. This year, Louisburg College entered a colorful float bearing the Bicentennial Flag and an enthusiastic group of college students. The season that represents love and peace is truly a time when both the college and community can share in the festivities in a union of one spirit.

The 14th Annual Convention

The Fourteenth National Whistlers Convention was sponsored by the Franklin County Arts Council on April 24-25, 1987, and held in the Franklin County Courthouse. The weather might have been wet and nasty outside, but the participants and spectators found the inside to be a whistler's paradise. The guests of honor were Fred Newman, from New York City; Milton Briggs, 1985 International Whistling Champion, from Carmichael, California; Carlin Morton, World's Champion Whistle Collector, from Fort Myers Beach, Florida and Peter Hassell, 1985 National Whistling Champion, from New Rochelle, New York. The Judges for the Convention were Milton Briggs, Louella Morton, Edith Anderson, Ken Goehle and Peter Hassell. The Champion for this year's Convention was again Joel Brandon from Chicago. The 1987 National Childrens' Whistling champion is a Youngsville, N.C. native, Jennifer Simmons. The festivities continued with a Square Dance in the Western Auto Store.

The National Whistler's Convention is one of the main events for the Town of Louisburg and the surrounding communities. People from all over the United States come and share their whistling talents and their happiness through other art forms. Louisburg has a great heritage and is also home of the oldest Chartered, two-year, church-related, coeducational college in America. Now thats something to whistle about!

The competition is really tough and to win the National Whistler's Convention takes more than a clear whistle, it takes determination and concentration.

Children are very important for the competition. They give a refreshing lift to the Convention and put smiles on many faces

Bicentennial Week

Alumni Day

On March 28, 1987, Louisburg College welcomed back many alumni and friends of the college. It was indeed a very special day for the many alumni that started their college education at Louisburg College. It was a day on which many former students got reaquainted. Louisburg College has 12,000 living Alumni across the country, according to Horold Morris, President of the Alumni Association. Former President Cecil Robbins was on hand to greet students who were here during his administration. Dr. J. Allen Norris, President of Louisburg College, welcomed the many who attended the day's activities at the Alumni Day luncheon. The day was filled with many events. The 440TH National Guard Band played on the front lawn of Main Building before Alumni and Friends of the college. There was also a performance of the Bicenntennial Play that Ray Mize penned for the Bicentennial Year. The highlight of the day would be the Bicentennial Ball later that evening, with the Bo Thorpe band which played enjoyable music to which everyone danced the night away.

Welcoming an alumnus to the Alumni Day luncheon is Dr. J. Allen Norris.

After scoring a big basket, the Canes exhart the team to play tough defense.

Basketball 1986-87

The Competition was strong

The Hurricanes' Basketball team started with only three returning players and many freshmen. It would be a test for Coach Enid Drakes' working knowledge and philosophy of the game to find that specific mixture for a well balance team. The Hurricanes' record was 22-10 in the campaign that led to an Eastern Division Region X Tournament Championship. Starting freshmen team workouts on September 15, Coach Drake watched his new recurits with great concern. Coach Drake said earlier in the season "that the only two things he knew for sure is that sophomore Bruce Moore will start at point guard and that the team would have speed and quickness." Other than Moore, the only other returners for the team were guards Steve Watkins and Kerlin Lynch. Drake and Assistant Coach Rod Wyatt expected all three players to give the team the needed leadership that a predominantly freshman team would need. For the most part Drake, in his 22nd year, felt he had a good recuiting year, but he said, "it's very hard for a freshman dominated teams to have an outstanding won-loss record at any college levels." This freshman team would defy the odds. It would have the ingredients of solid coaching and a team that was willing to go the extra distances for the cherished prize. The team ended its season with a 26 and 8 record. The Canes won the Eastern Tar Heel Conference Tournament by downing Chowan by a score of 68 to 64. The Canes flew into the Eastern Division X Tournament by beating Lees McRae and Spartanburg. Things seemed to be running smoothly for the Hurricane five. The Canes dream of another Division X Championship was snuffed out by a good team from Anderson, South Carolina.

Growing Pains

It was another year of growth for Head Coach, Sheilah Cotten and the Lady Hurricanes of Louisburg College. The Lady Canes ended their season at the Eastern Division Tournament, held at the Jesse A. Helms Center, on the campus of Chowan College, with an overall record of 8 and 12. Though there were not many bright areas for the Lady Canes season, there was one. The steady play of Stephanie Newton made the season fare better. Miss Newton, a 5'8" small guard, from Farmville Central High, was praised by her Coach Sheliah Cotten in the following matter. "I'm proud to have had the opportunity to coach Stephanie." Coach Cotten said of Newton, who led the Region X in scoring with 17.5 points per game this year and was third leading rebounder in the region with 10.5 per game. "She's given everything she could for us," said Cotten. Newton along with teammate April Ford was also selected to the Eastern Division all-conference team as well. In reference to the season's end, Cotten said, "I feel like we came together the last two weeks of the season. But we just didn't have the height or depth inside for us to be competitive."

Hurricanes Baseball '87

The Louisburg College Baseball team had another very successful year. The hardnosed team recorded an 36 and 8 season for the Hall of Famer Coach, Russell Frazier. The team "was not one of Fraziers best teams, but they beleived in themselves and felt they could get the job done," said Sports Information Director, Austin Ayscue. The team made it to Grand Junction, Colorado, to participate in the National Junior College World Series. The Canes were eliminated by Trinidad, Colorado and Scottsdale, Arizona. During the pre-game festivities, the National Junior College Athletic Association held the induction of new members for its Hall of Fame. Coach Russell Frazier, was the 13th member ever to be inducted into this high national honor. Dr. J. Allen Norris Jr., President of Louisburg College, said of the honor bestowed on the Coach, "We are mighty proud of Russ Frazier for the honor he received in Grand Junction, as his distingushed career has been recognized nationally, so Louisburg College is made better. We salute him and were proud to represent the College and Franklin County at the NJCAA Awards Banquet.

Cheerleaders '87

Keeping The Spirit

What a special year it was to be a Cheerleader at Louisburg College in 1987. It was the Bicentennial year. To think, years from now, we would be known as the Bicentennial Cheerleaders. The Cheerleaders brought with them a new spirit to each and every game. Sporting their new cheerleading uniform, they electrified the students and fans to heights of involvement in the contests they were viewing. They raised funds to go to away games. There were bake sales and a car wash that put $60.00 in the cheerleader's bank. The members of the 1986-87 squad were Nicki Harris, Marilyn Patterson, Angela McLawhorn, Susan Keever, Kym Gholston, Jackie Bagwell and Stephanie Leslie.

Student Government

This year the Student Government Association had the distinct pleasure of being the Bicentennial voice of the student body. Lisa Buffaloe, from Youngsville, N.C., was President of the S.G.A. and represented the student body in the Administration and the Board of Trustees. Assistant Dean of Students, Kelli McLeod was the organizations faculty advisor. The purpose of the S.G.A. is not only to be a voice for the students in aiding in policy-making with the administration, but also to provide entertainment for student events. This year the S.G.A. sponsored, with the Bicentennial Committee, the Student Concert that brought the Band of Oz and Sidewinder to the college. The S.G.A. also sponsored the Queen and King of hearts that raised over $1145.00 for the Heart Fund. It was truly a special year for the Student Government Association.

Student Government Represenative Joe Cohn makes an important point at one of the regular meetings of the S.G.A..

The Executive members of the S.G.A. are Jeff Bullard, Parliamentarian; Lisa Cordell, Treasurer; Lisa Arnold, Secretary; Todd Shearin, Vice President and Lisa Buffaloe, President.

Representing Student Interests

The Student Government Association not only is one large body representing the students interests, but it is also broken down into smaller groups that meet specific needs of the student body. These committees have various responsibilities to meet, as well as to aid in the legislation for student resolutions. Some of these committees represent areas of students elections, entertainment, food service and publicity. The S.G.A. Committees were very instrumental in helping and planning programs for the Bicentennial Year. The Entertainment and Publicity Committees worked with the College Bicentennial Committee in aiding them in the planning and implementation of the activities during the Bicentennial Year. The committees' work this year will be remembered for a long time.

Entertainment Committee members are Lisa Arnold, Kevin Zaltek, Joe Cohn, Kelly Boyles, Walker Ingle, Lisa Cordell, Ellen Floyd, Todd Shearin, Kim Taylor, Scott Schlatzhauer, Melanie Dean and Lisa Buffaloe

Louisburg College Delegation

N.C. Student Legislature

Louisburg College became a member of the State organization of the North Carolina Student Legislature. The first delegation from the College won the honor of being the most improved delegation for the academic year 1986-87. The Preamble to the constitution of the North Carolina Student Legislature is; "The North Carolina Student Legislature feels that being a part of a non-partisan group, while expressing one's own opinions during legislative sessions, is important in getting young adults involved in the issues of the day, while dealing with them in a professional and parliamentary manner." The Purpose of the Louisburg College Delegation to the N.C.S.L. is to unofficially represent Louisburg College at each month's meetings. The College's delegation consists of full and part-time students.
